ents are dead and he and his sister, Miss Mary Henzler, conducted a butcher shop, left by their father. Since Henzler went to camp, Miss Henzler has run the store herself.

Private Harry E. Meerer, wounded in action on July 16, is only nineteen years old. He enlisted in the marine corps in the spring of 1917 and was one of the famous "seventy-six" marines who volunteered for immediate service shortly after their enlistment, and was sent to France with General Pershing. He was struck by a shell fragment, he says in a letter to his mother, and is now in a base hospital where there are a number of Philadelphia nurses. His wound is serious, but he will recover, he added, and expects to be able to rejoin his company in about six weeks.

Privates Robinson and Lewis belonged to the regular army. The former was numbered among those severely wounded in recent battles on the west front, while the extent of Lewis's wounds are as yet undetermined, according to the report.

Northeast High Teacher in France Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson, 5226 Webster street, have received word that their son, Corporal Robert J. Anderson, Battery F, 121st Field Artillery, has arrived in France. Corporal Anderson formerly was a member of the faculty of Northeast High School.

MRS. LEWIS FLAYS WASHINGTON POLICE

Philadelphia Woman, Arrested in Suffrage Demonstration, Outspoken

By a Staff Correspondent

Washington, Aug. 13. Mrs. Lawrence Lewis, of Philadelphia, and seven other women suffragists of Pennsylvania, who were among the forty-eight arrested yesterday by the Washington police during a demonstration in Lafayette Park, in front of the White House, were arraigned today for trial under circumstances as much unlike the procedure in any ordinary courtroom as warfare in the French front-line trenches is unlike a Sunday school picnic.

Mrs. Lewis was chairman and leader of yesterday's demonstration. None of the Pennsylvania women wore bandages or limped, as did many of their fellow-agitators, though all of them asserted that they had been handled in an unusually rough manner by the police.

Mrs. Heliana Hill Weed, of Norwalk, Conn., during the late Congressional election before the bar and lawyer for all the accused women, battled the combined wits of the judge, district attorney and police.

She narrowly escaped being arrested again during her luncheon recess, when she met Captain Flather, who was in charge of the police who made the arrests, and called him "a wilful, unprovoked and deliberate liar." She refused to take his proffered hand or talk with him.

"This is the greatest judicial and police fiasco I have ever witnessed," said Mrs. Lewis, as she waited her turn for trial.

"Do you think the police of Philadelphia would do anything like this, or people for going out to give an opinion talk in a park?" she asked. "I should say not, they would have more sense than to attempt anything so silly."

With Mrs. Lewis in the court today, from Pennsylvania, were Dr. Sara Lockyer, Miss Martha Washington Moore and Miss Cora Crawford, all of Philadelphia; Miss Lavina Dock of Fayetteville; Miss Kate Heitzinger, of Shamokin; Miss Mary Winsor, of Haverford, and Mrs. Edmund Cadwalader Evans, of Ardmore, Pa.

HOSPITAL WORKER SUICIDE Elizabeth Huplitz, Municipal Institution Housekeeper, Found Dead

Miss Elizabeth Huplitz, housekeeper at the Municipal Hospital, was found dead today in a bathroom there. The woman had washed both wrists with a pen-knife and then lay in a bathtub filled with water face down. She had been dead several hours when her body was discovered by the head nurse.

Miss Huplitz had been employed at the hospital since November 1917. She is believed to have been temporarily deranged.

Dejected Young Man Puts Head on Reading Tracks

An unidentified man between twenty-five and thirty years old, well dressed, with a blue serge suit, committed suicide today by placing his head under the wheels of a freight train on the Philadelphia and Reading tracks at Fountain street, Manayunk.

The man had been seen by passersby walking along the track dejectedly, but no one was close enough to prevent his act. His head was severed.

A block party was held for four little girls in the Pines Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church, at which $14 was raised for Auxiliary No. 354, Red Cross. The children are Dorothy Grand, 508 West Toga street; Isabella Smith, 820 West Toga street; Viola and Eleanor Tomlinson, 3620 North Seventh street.

revolution against the Bolsheviks has spread to many new districts in Russia. The counter-revolutionaries have been victorious in most of the fighting. Bloody anti-German riots are raging in Ukraine, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen today.

Germany is rushing re-enforcements of troops into Ukraine. The riots were precipitated by the seizure of harvests by the Germans.

KERENSKY RETURNS; MAY BE NEW LEADER

By the United Press

Washington, Aug. 13.—Kerensky, one-time hero of the Russian revolution, is being groomed as the possible leader to drive out the Bolsheviks and re-establish his country, it was indicated today.

He is about to go to Archangel, it is learned authoritatively, to throw his weight with the new government of the northern province. Observers in some quarters expect an attempt to extend this government under Kerensky's leadership to all of Russia.

It is doubtful, however, just how Allied governments would take to Kerensky as the Russian leader, although some groups in France, England and America are working in his favor.

Kerensky recently planned to come to America to enlist President Wilson's aid in restoring Russia, but preparations of the Allies made this unnecessary. Russian officials here said today.

Reports charging Kerensky with being pro-German, Bolshevik and a friend of Lenin and Trotsky were stoutly denied by Russians here today.

Just who is their chief leader in the new reorganized government is not yet clear. But M. Zuboff, assistant Mayor of the City of Volodga and one of the signers of the new Government's proclamation, has been mentioned before his aid to the American Government as a strong man. He is strongly pro-Ally.

RUSSIANS COMING BACK INTO THE WAR

"Events are sweeping Russia back into the war. There is every reason to hope now that next summer will bring the restoration of the eastern front. The ab-election day. The attorney said it was significant that the Commonwealth did not call Mascia to the stand.

Gray, in his address for the defense, branded Clark and Persch as "rats" and Maloney as a "crook."

Gray ended the concluding argument for the defense at 3:35 p. m., after speaking for three hours and fifteen minutes.

Former Judge Robert Gawthrop immediately began the prosecution's closing address.

McElree drew an analogy between a fiddle net cast out for fish made in the Brandywine Creek with the Fifth Ward case. The net cast had been widely advertised, he said, and crowds lined the banks to watch the haul.

"But all that was hauled out of the muddy bed of the creek were four tiny sunfish and one black bass," Mr. McElree added. "So it was with the yellow journals of Philadelphia, the somewhat discredited and wholly subsidized press. All they hauled out of the Fifth Ward case were five miserable patrolmen who dared to take the orders of their superiors."

The attorney belittled the arrest of Carey election officers on primary election day.

"There were no Deutsch election officers in the ward," he declared. "Butch" Mascia, the convicted gunman, resembles Louis Feldman, a defendant. Mascia said, in trying to explain away testimony by Carey.

The latter, on the witness stand, said he believed Feldman was the man who was beating him with a blackjack on
